OFFICE OF MEDICAL SERVICES
HEALTH EDUCATION PROGRAM

1. The Office of Medical Services will present a lecture in the Headquarters Auditorium on Thursday, 14 May 1981, at 1:00 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Jerome W. Canter, Associate Clinical Professor of Surgery at the George Washington University Medical Center. The title of his lecture will be "Breast Cancer: New Vistas and Challenges." Breast cancer is one of the most common occurring malignancies. Early detection, surgical excision, and chemotherapy offer hope to many patients. Dr. Canter will discuss recent approaches to the solution of this insidious disease.

2. Dr. Canter was born in Washington, D.C., and received his undergraduate degree from Princeton University in 1951. In 1955 he graduated in Medicine from George Washington University. Postgraduate training includes a Surgical Internship, Assistant Resident in Surgery and Senior Resident in Surgery at Mount Sinai Hospital, New York, New York. Dr. Canter is Associate Clinical Professor of Surgery at George Washington University Medical Center. He is also on the staff at Children's Hospital, Sibley Memorial Hospital, Holy Cross Hospital and Suburban Hospital.

3. Dr. Canter was certified by the American College of Surgeons in 1965 and is a member of many local and national professional societies. He has contributed extensively to the surgical and medical literature.

4. Employees are encouraged to attend the lecture. Tickets are not required for admission. A question and answer period will follow the formal presentation.
